

Ednelson is from Cape Verde. Having completed his English class, he now juggles courses at Bunker Hill Community College with two part-time jobs. He sends whatever is left over to his family back home. "If they just talk to immigrants, get to know us, they will know that we are not here to do bad things - just to help, like everyone else. I'm here. I'm working hard. I have goals, and I want to help America."