ESOL Career Coach

Fabian provides group and individual workforce readiness coaching to students who are learning English at ENB's community ESOL programs across neighborhoods city-wide. He helps students prepare for the job market and small business opportunities based on their interests and backgrounds. Fabian supports students as they learn to use technology as part of their job search, learn about U.S. work culture, and connect with employers. Coaches serve as the liaison with employers for job placement and continue to support ESOL students post-employment.

Before joining ENB, Fabian was CEO at Health and Safety Consulting, and worked as an Occupational Safety and Health and Emergency Response Consultant and Instructor in several countries. Fabian was a volunteer firefighter and EMT (including being fire chief) for over 15 years, in Venezuela. While studying English at Jamaica Plain Community Learning Centers' Adult Learning Program, Fabian served as President of the Student Council.

Fabian is fluent in Spanish and English.
